WELCOME
We have had a very successful start to the fall semester at the Glassell School, as we reach the midpoint of the term. Classes on campus are enrolled at 50 percent capacity, and safety protocols like masks and social distancing are in place. It has been such a pleasure seeing students back in our facilities. It really brings energy to our faculty, who have done an exceptional job maintaining the school’s educational mission.

Our remote-learning classes have also proven to be highly successful and will continue to be an option as we move forward to the spring semester and beyond. Diligent faculty preparation and creativity allowed the school to make this transition.

Look for our virtual exhibitions currently on the Museum website, mfah.org. The Annual Student Exhibition is always a wonderful opportunity to see examples of work by Glassell students and decide what courses to enroll in next.

This spring we introduce a couple of new workshops with two new faculty members: Contemporary Drawing with Ayanna Jolivet Mccloud will focus on maps, bayous, oceans, and textures in nature as inspirational sources and Basic Fundamentals for Drawing & Painting the Head with Eddie Filer will focus on character and figuration.

We are hopeful that with a continued emphasis on maintaining safety protocols and exceptional classes, we will see a steady return of students to Glassell. The strength of our school is the quality of our faculty and the passionate engagement of our students.

GENERAL INFORMATION
Originally founded as the Museum School in the late 1920s as part of the Museum of Fine Arts, Houston, the Glassell School of Art has grown for almost 100 years, through several buildings, to a dynamic and diverse program today, encompassing classes for students of all ages. Named for Houston businessman and arts patron Alfred C. Glassell, Jr., the school offers programs and classes in all media areas, and for all skill and experience levels.

The school's new building, designed by Steven Holl Architects and opened in 2018, provides more than 80,000 square feet of classroom and exhibition space. With 22 classrooms, an 80-seat auditorium, and year-round programming for children and adults, the Glassell School of Art serves more than 7,000 students per year, offering a wide range of studio, lecture, and classroom and exhibition space. The school serves the right to amend, add, and delete policies and regulations as necessary, as well as the right to change programs, dates, personnel, and fees noted in this catalog. Any photos, videos, pictorial images, voice recordings, or quotations taken or created by the MFAH (including, without limitation, any taken by any photographer or videographer paid by or volunteering for the MFAH) during or relating to a course are the sole property of the MFAH. These items may be used in future publications, web pages, promotions, advertisements, and exhibitions of the school or the MFAH or any other person authorized to use such images by the school or MFAH without the need of additional permission from or consideration to the student.

ADMISSIONS
The Studio School offers art history courses, studio courses, and workshops for adults. Students must be at least 18 years of age to attend any studio courses or workshops. Students younger than 18 may enroll in courses offered during the fall and spring semesters with the permission of their legal guardian and the course instructor. Questions regarding permission may be directed to the dean. New students must attend mandatory faculty counseling for placement in upper-level courses. Continuing students may only advance if they have successfully completed courses with grades of C or higher, and with the permission and approval of an instructor in their area of study. Students may not repeat courses without faculty approval.

Students enrolled in the Studio School courses are expected to actively participate in their courses and to work toward the improved development of their artistic practices. Students at advanced levels looking to work independently must have faculty approval for their projects and be registered for either advanced-level courses or independent study. The school uses English as the medium of instruction, and all students are assumed to have proficiency in English, particularly with regard to understanding statements and instructions about safety and equipment operation.

Due to class-size limitations, the Studio School does not allow enrollment solely for the use of equipment and facilities, nor offer rental of studio time, equipment, or facilities for working artists. Students may be asked to leave the program or not be approved for reenrollment if they are solely enrolled to use equipment and facilities.

PREREQUISITES AND REGISTRATION
Registrations are not accepted by phone. Undersubscribed sections are canceled at the discretion of the Glassell School.

Art history courses and most workshops do not have any prerequisites, unless specifically noted in description. Students may register for art history courses and workshops by mail or by email. Use the form on page 41 or go to mfah.org/glassell to download a form.

New students are welcome to enroll in any course or workshop that does not require prerequisites. New students wishing to enroll in upper-level courses must register in person in order to attend mandatory faculty counseling. Please contact the school via email at glassell@mfah.org or by phone at 713-639-7500 to set up a counseling appointment. Continuing students may register by mail or by email to registration@mfah.org.

Students may skip prerequisite courses only if their student file contains one of the following: 1) documentation that the prerequisite was waived by a faculty counselor or 2) a transcript showing that the prerequisite was completed at another institution. Students must repeat any prerequisite courses in which they received grades of W, DR, or F.

Each level of a studio course consists of two semesters. Students are expected to enroll in each semester in numerical sequence without skipping semesters, unless the student's record file contains either 1) a transcript showing completion of similar course work at another institution or 2) faculty approval.

Additionally, students are expected to progress through the levels at a reasonable rate of study. Students may repeat levels only with faculty approval.

FACULTY COUNSELING AND PLACEMENT
Faculty counseling is held prior to the start of each semester to place students into courses commensurate with their experience and skills. The counseling sessions allow each student to discuss goals with a faculty member, who also evaluates the student's experience based on a review of a portfolio, Glassell School of Art academic records, or a transcript from another institution.

TRANSFER CREDIT
Students wishing to transfer credits from other institutions must submit official transcripts and a portfolio for review. Portfolios should be submitted during registration to be reviewed during faculty counseling. Official transcripts must be provided no later than one month after the end of the semester's registration period. Students who do not furnish transcripts by this deadline may be dropped from all classes with no tuition refund. Transfer credit will be evaluated on a case-by-case basis by a faculty counselor, in conjunction with the registrar's review of the student's transcript.

INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS
The Glassell School is not able to grant visas to international students seeking to study studio arts. If looking to enroll in a visa-based program, we recommend registering through our partner program with the University of St. Thomas.

ONLINE STUDENTS
Students have the option to enroll in many of the courses online. Students who choose to enroll in an online course will pay the amount noted in the Tuition
Tuition and Fees section under Online Studio Courses and Online Art History Courses. Students enrolled in a course online will not be permitted to attend the same class in person if the course is offered both online and in person. Students in online courses are able to use the studios outside of class time.

Parking is not provided for online students, and those wishing to use the studios will be required to pay the posted parking rates.

TUITION AND FEES
The Glassell School of Art does not offer payment plans. All tuition and fees are due in full at the time of registration. Workshops are priced individually.

Tuition covers the cost of the class and parking. Class fees are charged separately, and include scaled fees for appropriate use and maintenance of equipment in all studios, purchase of bulk supplies (chemicals, glazes, and inks) in various areas, disposal of hazardous waste, and usage of figure models in scheduled classes and figure drawing lab sessions. Tuition rates are listed below for courses in various areas and reflect the appropriate scaled fee for use of school-provided resources.

Tuition for online courses covers the cost of the class only. Students enrolled in online courses will not be provided parking, and are expected to pay the posted amount if they choose to use the studios at the school outside of the class times.

Personal supplies such as paints, canvas, brushes, clay, tools, photographic paper, lenses, cameras, and other materials are not included in these fees, and it is expected that students will provide these materials for themselves. Supply lists are provided by instructors at the first class meeting.

Tuition for Full-Time Students
Students enrolling in a full-time schedule (4 courses per semester) are eligible for a 20% discount off their total cost of tuition (class fees included).

PAYMENT AND REFUND POLICY
The school requires a minimum number of students in order to hold a class. Students enrolled in classes that are canceled because of low enrollment will be notified by the registrar prior to the start of the semester and given an opportunity to enroll in another class or receive a full 100% refund or credit.

Add/Drop Policy
Any student submitting more than one (1) add/drop form per semester will be charged a processing fee of $50 for each additional form submitted.

Students wishing to add a course or workshop must complete an add/drop form, available at mfah.org/glassell and in the administrative office. All courses are closed after the first class meeting, and permission of the instructor is required to add into a course. Additional tuition charges and refunds are processed as appropriate.

Students wishing to drop a class must complete an add/drop form. All registrations are considered final as of the stated drop date in the calendar (see page 2). No refunds or credits are available for students who drop after that date. If applicable, refunds will be processed for the full amount of tuition, minus a $100 processing fee. Refunds are processed through the MFAH accounting department and, in most cases, are processed through the original method of payment. Refunds by check are sent via U.S. mail and may take up to three (3) weeks to process. Credit card refunds may take up to a full statement cycle to appear.

Students wishing to drop a workshop and receive a refund must submit a drop form one (1) week prior to the start of the workshop. Refunds will be processed for the full amount of the workshop costs, minus a $50 processing fee.

The school does not offer prorated refunds or credits for individual sessions of courses or workshops that are canceled for reasons beyond the school’s control, such as weather or unexpected absence of the instructor.

Medical Drop Policy
In the case of serious illness or injury necessitating the student’s withdrawal from the school, it is the responsibility of the student to notify the registrar immediately. Requests will only be honored if the student submits documentation from his/her physician that a withdrawal from the course is medically necessary. A tuition credit will be issued for the student to take the course in a future semester. The registrar will process the student out as appropriate, including initiating any credit, and notify the student’s instructor(s). Instructors cannot initiate or complete the withdrawal process on behalf of a student, nor initiate any refund or credit processes.

Credits
Once issued, credits for dropped courses or workshops cannot be exchanged for a monetary refund. Credits remain on file for two (2) semesters before expiring. Credits are filed in the dollar amount originally paid, not as placement in a particular course or workshop. If a student uses a credit on file, and later drops the course, the student forfeits that credit. It does not remain on file, nor does it roll into the next semester. Students using a credit would need to complete all appropriate enrollment forms, obtain necessary approvals, and indicate that they are using a credit on file for payment purposes.

SCHOLARSHIPS, FINANCIAL AID, AND DISCOUNTS
The school does not offer any need-based financial aid, nor is the school eligible to participate in federal financial-aid programs.
Studio School Scholarships
A limited number of scholarships are available each fall and spring semester for both studio and art history courses. These merit-based scholarships are awarded through a portfolio review by a panel of Studio School faculty. Scholarships are funded through proceeds from the Annual Student Sale as well as privately funded grants. Scholarships are available to students at all levels but are awarded solely based on the quality of the artwork submitted through portfolios. Scholarship recipients are expected to pay a discounted tuition fee for the class in which they were awarded a scholarship prior to the first day of classes. Tuition for scholarship recipients is $200 for studio courses, $100 for art history courses, or $50 for workshops. For more information on applying for the merit-based scholarships, visit mfah.org/studioschool or call 713-639-7500.

TUITION DISCOUNTS
All discounts are applicable to tuition only, and not to class fees. Class fees are added to the transaction after discounts have been applied. Discounts may not be combined, and are not issued retroactively. Discounts are not applicable on Glassell study-tours courses, BLOCK courses, or any courses and workshops involving travel.

MFAH Members
Museum members at the Patron level ($200 annual membership fee) and above are eligible for a 5% discount off tuition only. Please note that studio class fees of either $25 or $100 are not tuition and therefore are not discounted. Discount is valid for studio course tuition ($700), art history course tuition ($500), online course tuition ($600/$380), and/or workshops (pricing will vary).

MFAH Docs
Currently active MFAH docs (including docs at Bayou Bend and Rienzi) are eligible for a 20% discount on all courses and workshops for the semester (including class fees). Docs must present a docent ID with the registration form.

MFAH Staff
Current MFAH staff are eligible for a 30% discount off tuition only. Please note that studio class fees of either $25 or $100 are not tuition and therefore are not discounted. Discount is valid for studio course tuition ($700), art history course tuition ($500), online course tuition ($600/$380), and/or workshops (pricing will vary). Staff must present a staff ID with the registration form.

GRADING INFORMATION
Grades are issued at the end of each semester and are mailed to each student. A student may elect to receive a letter grade or a Pass/Fail (P/F). Students who have chosen Pass/Fail (P/F) grades may petition for letter grades within two years of taking the course. After two years, grades cannot be changed.

*Note: Students enrolled through UST must take all classes for letter grades and may not select the Pass/Fail option.

Letter Grades
Letter grades range from A to F: A (Excellent), B (Good), C (Average), D (Below Average), and F (Fail). Pluses and minuses may be used with letter grades, with the highest grade given being A.

Incomplete
A notation of I (Incomplete) is given if the student is unable to complete the assignments of the course for reasons beyond the student's control, including illness. The student must notify the instructor and receive approval to obtain an incomplete. An incomplete must be resolved prior to the start date of the following semester or it becomes an F grade.

Withdrawal
To withdraw from a class, a student must complete the add/drop form and notify the registrar. The student will receive a W (Withdrawn) on his/her transcript.

No refunds or credits are issued.

Workshops
Students enrolled in workshops will receive grades of S (Satisfactory) or U (Unsatisfactory). Satisfactory completion of workshops earns one elective credit hour. Workshop credit hours do not apply toward the Certificate of Achievement program.

STUDENT POLICIES & INFORMATION
Attendance
Each student is permitted three (3) absences per semester. Four (4) or more absences may result in dismissal or a grade of F (Fail) if the student fails to complete assignments that were scheduled during the absence(s). Registered students who fail to attend any classes in a given semester will receive a W (Withdrawn) on their transcript. Instructors reserve the right to drop a student who has been absent from the first two (2) class meetings. In this case, refunds and/or credits will not be issued and the student will receive a W on their transcript.

Building Hours/Classroom Access
The Glassell School of Art is open Monday through Friday from 9:00 a.m. to 10:00 p.m., on Saturdays from 9:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m., and Sundays from 12:30 to 6:00 p.m. during the scheduled semester programs. Hours may be adjusted for holidays or private events. It is recommended to check the website and social media for information on closures related to holidays and private events. The school makes all efforts to provide advance notice of event closures, including notices on social media and via email.

During the semester, currently enrolled students may expect to access their classrooms during building hours only. Students do not have permission to access studios and facilities outside of the building’s hours, nor permission to access areas in which they are not enrolled.

Please note: The MFAH Garage hours are different from the building’s hours, and garage access does not guarantee or include classroom access. See Parking for more information.

Discipline/Dismissal
The Glassell School reserves the right to remove students from classes for unsatisfactory achievement, excessive absences, or behavior that is deemed to be disruptive, inappropriate, dangerous, or in violation of school health and safety regulations, or in violation of Museum policies.

While it is impossible to compile a complete list of disruptive behavior, any form of conduct by an individual or group of students that interferes with or inhibits the educational opportunities of another student is considered a disruption. Similarly, conduct that diminishes the effectiveness of an instructor or has the effect of negatively impacting the learning environment is also considered a disruption. Students engaging in disruptive classroom behavior may be subject to disciplinary action, including warnings, dismissal from a class, and dismissal from the program and/or school.

Individual instructors maintain the right to dismiss a student from a class with a warning and to remove a student permanently from a class for repeated offenses. In the event of subsequent behavior problems, the student will be dismissed with no refund and no access to further programming.

Students may also be dismissed for inappropriate and disruptive behavior toward Museum staff, for nonpayment of any tuition and fees past or present, and for unlawful possession or use of drugs and/or alcohol.

Free Museum Admission
The Museum of Fine Arts, Houston, is the largest art museum in the Southwest, and its encyclopedic collections are an exceptional resource for learning about the visual arts from a worldwide perspective. Studio School students receive free general admission to the Museum (excluding ticketed exhibitions and events).

Homework
Each studio course requires a minimum of three hours of homework per week. Students enrolled through the University of St. Thomas are expected to produce three hours of additional homework per course to fulfill the credit-hour requirements.

Participation
Students are expected to actively participate in their classes, including attending scheduled critique sessions and field trips.

Lockers
A limited number of lockers are available in specific classes and designated areas for student use during the registered semester. The school does not guarantee a locker for each student, nor have the availability to allow students to have multiple lockers in various areas. At registration, the student releases and discharges the school and the MFAH from any liability or claim of liability for any damage to or loss of personal property, including artwork. (Instructors will provide additional information about lockers during course introductions.)

Personal Property
All artwork and personal property left at the school between semesters or after the stated retrieval dates will be discarded. This includes artwork from exhibitions both at the school and other venues, as well as work left in the classrooms and studios. The school will contact students via email with final notice for artwork and personal property pickup each semester. After the deadline date, the school will dispose of any unclaimed items. The school, the MFAH, and their agents or designees are not liable for damage to or loss of personal property left unattended.

Parking
Parking is included in the tuition for in-person classes and workshops. Parking is available in the MFAH Montrose Garage, which is conveniently located underneath the Glassell School building. Students enrolled in in-person classes and workshops will receive a parking pass that is valid for the semester. Students must use the pass provided by the MFAH Parking Office to access free parking in the garage and must use the pass at entry and exit each time they park in the garage facilities. The school does not validate parking nor reimburse parking expenses incurred if students are not using the pass provided to them.

Students who opt to enroll online will not receive any parking pass and will pay a lowered tuition rate for their online course. Online students who come to campus and park in the MFAH garage facilities will be responsible for paying for their parking at the posted rates. The school, the MFAH, and their agents or designees are not liable for damage or loss to vehicles or the contents of vehicles parked in or around designated areas.

Street parking is available in the surrounding neighborhood. As always, students are reminded that street parking is at their own risk.

Release of Information
The school maintains records for all current and past students. Student information is released only to the student or designated representative. Designation forms are available at mfah.org/glassell and from the registrar and must be on file for information to be released to anyone other than the student. Exceptions may be made for health and safety emergencies or to comply with legally issued subpoenas.

Safety
The school is committed to the safety of its students, faculty, and staff. As such, the school has prepared a Health and Safety Manual. This document is available from the administrative offices, and a copy is kept in all studios and classrooms. Students are expected to follow safety procedures as outlined in the manual as well as comply with any safety information distributed by instructors.

COVID-19 Safety Protocols
In response to safety concerns regarding COVID-19, the Glassell School of Art has instituted safety and cleaning protocols to help ensure the safety of our students, faculty, and staff. All students must comply with our COVID-19 safety policies as listed below. The school reserves the right to amend or update these policies and procedures as necessary throughout the semester.

Face masks or face coverings are mandatory in the building and classrooms. Students are required to have their temperatures scanned when entering the building. By registering for a class, the student is committing to wear a mask at all times in the school building and to follow all current and future safety measures. Online classes have been put in place to offset the number of students in the classrooms, as well as to provide education to those students who do not feel comfortable entering the building at this time. Students enrolled in online courses will not be permitted to attend in person but will be permitted to use the studios outside of class times if social distancing is maintained. The number of visitors, staff, and students in the Glassell School is limited, and students may not be given access to the studios if social distancing cannot be maintained. Students are asked to monitor themselves in regard to social distancing and sickness and are expected to consider the health of themselves and others before entering the building. The building will be cleaned and sanitized more frequently to ensure the safety of students and instructors. Students who fail to follow safety instructions may be dismissed from the school, as outlined in the discipline policy.

Waiver and Release of Liability
Although the MFAH hopes that no student is ever injured or hurt, injuries are a possibility of participation in the Studio School. The risk of injuries is a risk that the students voluntarily agree to assume in exchange for the privilege of participating in the Studio School. The students understand and agree that this risk is not a risk that the MFAH assumes and that the MFAH is not responsible for any injuries to the students. Accordingly, the student voluntarily releases, discharges, and waives the right to sue the MFAH and its directors, trustees, officers, employees, volunteers, agents, and all persons acting by, through, under, or in concert with the MFAH for any and all losses, demands, claims, suits, causes of action, liability, costs, expenses, and judgments whether arising in equity, at common law, or by statute, under the law of contracts, torts, or property, for personal injury (including without limitation emotional distress), arising in favor of the student, or anyone claiming through us based upon, in connection with, relating to or arising out of, directly or indirectly, the student’s participation in the Studio School EVEN IF ANY SUCH CLAIMS ARE DUE TO THE RELEASED PARTIES’ OWN NEGLIGENCE, STRICT LIABILITY WITHOUT REGARD TO FAULT, VIOLATION OF STATUTE, OR OTHER FAULT, INCLUDING ANY NEGLIGENT ACT, OMISSION, OR INTENTIONAL ACT INTENDED TO PROMOTE SAFETY OR WELL-BEING. The student hereby grants permission to the MFAH to obtain emergency medical treatment for the student if the MFAH deems in its discretion that such emergency medical treatment is necessary.

Student ID Cards
Each semester, students will receive a Glassell student ID card for the current semester. The Glassell student ID card should be kept with students at all times when in the building. The student ID card should be used at the MFAH guest services desks to access free Museum admission.

Transcripts
Students requesting transcripts must submit a written request and appropriate payment to the registrar. Transcripts cost $5 per copy. Request forms are available at mfah.org/glassell and from the registrar. Transcript requests will not be processed if the student owes any fees. Students may also mail a request in writing to:

Registrar, Studio School
MFAH Glassell School of Art, P. O. Box 6826
Houston, TX 77265-6826

Requests must include the full name of the student, last semester attended, and the full mailing address with zip code for the location(s) where the transcripts are to be sent. Alternatively, the student may pick up transcripts in person. In-person pick-up requests must include a telephone number so that the registrar can contact the student when the transcripts are available. Allow at least 3 business days for transcripts to be completed.

PROGRAMES OF NOTE
Certificate of Achievement
A comprehensive fine arts program has been developed in which students work toward a Certificate of Achievement in one of the following subjects: drawing, painting, photography, printmaking, sculpture, ceramics, or jewelry.

A student may begin this program at any point. The program provides students with the necessary foundation for continued studies at an intermediate or advanced level in their major field. A wide range of course offerings for elective credits supplements the major field of study.

Upon the student's satisfactory completion of 96 specific credits, the student's work is reviewed and approved by a certificate committee made up of Studio School faculty.

Certificate of Achievement Requirements
Students earn three hours of credit for each successfully completed (grade C or above) course per semester.

Certificate students are required to receive a letter grade. Pass/Fail grades received prior to fall 2008 will still be accepted toward certificate credits. Workshops are not eligible for credit toward the Certificate of Achievement.

Students may transfer 12 foundation-level credits, 6 art history credits, and 6 life drawing credits from another post-secondary institution, with the approval of the dean and the registrar. Students interested in the Certificate of Achievement program should call 713-639-7500 to schedule an appointment with the dean.

University of St. Thomas
The Glassell School of Art serves as the studio arts program for the University of St. Thomas. Students seeking to earn their bachelor of arts degree must apply and enroll through the University of St. Thomas, in order to receive full credit toward degree programs.

Students enrolling through the UST program may only enroll in those courses offered through the UST registration system. Please note, due to UST policies and rules, not all Glassell courses are offered and available for UST enrollment. For more information, please visit the UST website at stthom.edu.

From at least the Futurist artist Umberto Boccioni through contemporary artists such as James Turrell, time, motion, light, and even sound have not only been fair game as subject matter but these elements have been actual media used by painters and sculptors as they make their work. This course walks through modern and contemporary art and culture as artists explore the use of these “intangible” materials as a component of their artwork. Online courses will be taught via the Zoom video conferencing app on the given date and time. Instructions on how to access this platform as well as the handouts and other class information will be distributed to students prior to the first class meeting.

This course surveys the lives and works of art of fourteen great Masters from the Renaissance to modern times. Arranged chronologically, the course will examine the innovations and legacies of Leonardo da Vinci, Albrecht Dürer, Artemesia Gentileschi, Diego Velázquez, Rembrandt van Rijn, Johannes Vermeer, Francisco de Goya, Auguste Rodin, Pierre-Auguste Renoir, Vincent van Gogh, Vasily Kandinsky, Pablo Picasso, Frida Kahlo, and Andy Warhol. Content and context will be explored with an emphasis on visual and verbal analysis and synthesis. Online courses will be taught via the BlueJeans video conferencing app, with handouts emailed to students. Students will be able to interact with the instructor during class time over the BlueJeans conferencing app’s chat function.
Art History: Museums in Paris: Behind the Scenes
ARH 315
Tuition                Online: $380

Online Thursday 2:00-4:00 p.m. Tahinci

This course takes students on a virtual artistic journey to Paris, its arts scenes and museums. By studying both well-known Parisian museums (the Centre Georges Pompidou, the Louvre, the Musée d’Orsay, the Musée Picasso) and “hidden gems” (the Musée Bourdelle, the two Musées Rodin in Paris and Meudon, the Musée de la Vie Romantique, the Musée Zadkine), we will analyze architecture, painting, sculpture, decorative arts, and photography, and we will trace the history and culture of France in Paris. Online courses will be taught via the BlueJeans video conferencing app, with handouts emailed to students. Students will be able to interact with the instructor during class time over the BlueJeans conferencing app’s chat function.

2-D COURSES

2-D Design

Tuition                In-Person: $725                Online: $600

A  Monday 9:30 a.m.–12:30 p.m.  Bise
NA Monday 6:30–9:30 p.m.  Ponder

Online Monday TBD Johnson

2-D Design teaches the basic grammar underlying all visual language. Students are introduced to design elements that are common to all works in two dimensions. Students will learn to manipulate movement, line, shape, texture, value, and color to achieve specific artistic goals through practical exercises and to analyze how compositions work through discussion. Critiques and demonstrations occur throughout the semester. Online courses will be taught via the Zoom video conferencing app. Weekly assignments and lectures will be posted every Monday morning. Instructions on how to access platforms as well as the handouts and other class information will be distributed to students prior to the first class meeting.

Art History: Claude Monet and His Artistic Legacy
ARH 331
Tuition                Online: $380

Online Wednesday 2:00-4:00 p.m. Tahinci

This course offers a unique opportunity to survey Claude Monet (1840–1926) and discover how his elaborate explorations of light, color, and atmosphere have made him the quintessential Impressionist painter. Monet’s artistic career is examined in relation to major currents and themes in European art, history, and culture. This course highlights current scholarship and conversations in order to reassess Monet’s unique artistic vision and his legacy to the art world. Slide presentations and case studies of individual works of art are incorporated in the class. Online courses will be taught via the BlueJeans video conferencing app, with handouts emailed to students. Students will be able to interact with the instructor during class time over the BlueJeans conferencing app’s chat function.

Art History Survey II: Renaissance to Contemporary
ARH 307-2
Tuition                Online: $380

Online Thursday 10:00 a.m.–12:00 noon Tahinci

This course explores the development of Western art from the Renaissance to the present. The class is structured chronologically and is designed to encourage a critical understanding of the meaning and function of selected art objects, architecture, and design artifacts within their original historical contexts. Emphasis is placed on a visual and verbal examination and analysis, as well as discussion of societal and historical contexts of all the major stylistic and thematic trends in Western artistic tradition. Slide presentations and case studies of individual museum objects are incorporated in the survey. Online courses will be taught via the BlueJeans video conferencing app, with handouts emailed to students. Students will be able to interact with the instructor during class time over the BlueJeans conferencing app’s chat function.

In this introductory course, students learn to transpose 3-D objects into 2-D equivalents. While studying the relationships between planes and evaluating proportions, students develop perceptual skills in order to translate these observations to paper. The goals of this course involve the exploration of different representational techniques in black-and-white media and the development of visual awareness and discrimination. Critiques and demonstrations occur throughout the semester. Online courses will be taught via the Zoom video conferencing app. Weekly assignments and lectures will be posted every Monday morning. Instructions on how to access platforms as well as the handouts and other class information will be distributed to students prior to the first class meeting.

The second semester of Drawing Fundamentals continues to develop the student’s visual and technical skills in various black-and-white media as initiated in the first semester. In addition, basic color theory is introduced as color concepts are applied to the drawing process. Broader approaches to a more complex range of subject matter are explored. Critiques and demonstrations occur throughout the semester. Online courses will be taught via the Zoom video conferencing app on the given date and time. Instructions on how to access this platform as well as the handouts and other class information will be distributed to students prior to the first class meeting.

Drawing is about observing, documenting, communicating ideas, unleashing the imagination, and questioning the world in which we live. This online course focuses on a series of topics including personal narrative, natural and industrial landscapes, dissected and transformed objects, social and political issues, and the drawing process. Students explore format, scale, technique, and mixed media. The course includes discussions, critiques, and slide presentations. Online courses will be taught via the Zoom video conferencing app on the given date and time. Instructions on how to access this platform as well as the handouts and other class information will be distributed to students prior to the first class meeting.

| Online | Tuesday | TBD | Palmer |

This online course is designed for students in the intermediate or advanced levels of life drawing who want to continue to work with the figure and explore a concentration in mixed media. The course will use and combine drawing, painting, and collage (both paper, fabric, and found-object based). We will be looking at art from Asia, Australia, the Oceanic cultures, and Africa and indigenous art from the Americas for inspiration. Weekly videos and still photographs will be shared through our private Facebook group page.
Intermediate/Advanced Drawing: Monumental I & II
DRA 3301, DRA 3302, DRA 4301, DRA 4302
Prerequisites: DRF 1302 and 2DD 1303
Tuition In-Person: $725

A Thursday 9:30 a.m.–12:30 p.m. Portman

Students focus on the creation and the properties of drawing with dimensions 5 x 5 feet or larger. Examples of various rolled papers are provided, along with an introduction to materials appropriate for mark-making on large-scale drawings. Demonstrations, discussions on technique, and field trips to the Museum augment this course.

Beginning Life Drawing I & II
DRL 2310, DRL 2311
Prerequisites: DRF 1301 and 2DD 1303
Tuition In-Person: $800

C Monday 9:30 a.m.–12:30 p.m. Kerl
NA Thursday 6:30–9:30 p.m. Greenwalt

Students concentrate on representing an anatomically convincing account of the human figure while focusing on balance, movement, proportion, volume, and space. Short poses build an understanding of anatomy; long poses permit the exploration of media and the development of technique. Two labs on Fridays and Saturdays at 9:30 a.m.–12:30 p.m. provide additional time to work from the model. Critiques and demonstrations occur throughout the semester.

Drawing & Painting the Human Head I & II
DRL 2312, DRL 2313
Prerequisites: DRF 1301 and 2DD 1303
Tuition In-Person: $800

A Tuesday 9:30 a.m.–12:30 p.m. Palmer

This course offers an intensive exploration of the possibilities presented by portraiture. Students may choose to work with a range of media: graphite, charcoal, watercolor, acrylic, or oil. Emphasis is placed on individual interpretation. Demonstrations, museum visits, and critiques support the course goals. Two labs on Fridays and Saturdays at 9:30 a.m.–12:30 p.m. provide additional time to work from the model.

Intermediate/Advanced Life Drawing & Painting I & II
DRL 3310, DRL 3311, DRL 4310, DRL 4311
Prerequisite: DRL 2311
Tuition In-Person: $800

NA Thursday 6:30–9:30 p.m. Greenwalt

This sequence of courses is designed for students who have completed at least two semesters of Beginning Life Drawing and wish to continue working with figurative imagery. Studio time allows for longer, more complex poses. Students work toward greater control in a variety of wet and dry media. The class includes slide lectures, weekly demonstrations, and ongoing critiques. Advanced students begin to concentrate within one primary medium. Two labs on Fridays and Saturdays at 9:30 a.m.–12:30 p.m. provide additional time to work from the model.

B Thursday 9:30 a.m.–12:30 p.m. Ruello

Online Thursday 1:00–4:00 p.m. Ruello

Projects in this class are designed to address the relativity and interaction of color in the visual arts. Emphasis is on learning by direct perception of color phenomena, with studies on juxtaposition, harmony, and quantity executed in paint, colored papers, and nontraditional materials. Online courses will meet on either the BlueJeans or Zoom platform on the given date and time. Instructions on how to access these platforms as well as the handouts and other class information will be distributed to students prior to the first class meeting.
Beginning Collage and Assemblage I & II
COL 2350, COL 2351
Prerequisites: DRF 1301 and 2DD 1303, or permission of the instructor
Tuition: Online: $600

Online  Monday  9:30 a.m.–12:30 p.m.  Cosgrove

This online course allows students to express themselves not only through traditional art media, but also with objects that are common or unusual: papers, fabrics, printed images, words, machine parts, and things old and new. An overview of the history of collage and assemblage will be discussed for context. Students are encouraged to think comprehensively, experiment, share ideas and techniques, and develop integrated and creative collages and assemblages. Students may enroll for the semesters in either order. (COL 2350 is not a prerequisite for COL 2351.) Online courses will be taught via the Zoom video conferencing app on the given date and time. Instructions on how to access this platform as well as the handouts and other class information will be distributed to students prior to the first class meeting.

Intermediate Collage and Assemblage I & II
COL 3350, COL 3351
Prerequisite: COL 2350 or COL 2351, or permission of the instructor
Tuition: Online: $600

Online  Monday  9:30 a.m.–12:30 p.m.  Cosgrove

The genres of collage, assemblage, and found-object art have revolutionized the nature of art and how it is made. In these online courses, students develop a personal point of view and a body of work through challenging projects in mixed media that may be approached individually or as collaborative adventures. The class focuses on exploring ideas; collecting materials; experimenting with construction methods; and arranging a cohesive and meaningful collage, relief, box environment, assemblage, or found-object hybrid. Assignments include book and postcard alterations, map works, personages, game boards, and more. Online courses will be taught via the Zoom video conferencing app on the given date and time. Instructions on how to access this platform as well as the handouts and other class information will be distributed to students prior to the first class meeting.

Advanced Collage and Assemblage I & II
COL 4350, COL 4351
Prerequisite: COL 3350 or COL 3351, or permission of the instructor
Tuition: Online: $600

Online  Monday  9:30 a.m.–12:30 p.m.  Cosgrove

Students continue to participate in many of the assignments featured in Intermediate Collage and Assemblage, but also begin focusing on individualizing their research within this limitless medium. Students meet with the instructor to discuss projects and project series that are worked on throughout the semester. Online courses will be taught via the Zoom video conferencing app on the given date and time. Instructions on how to access this platform as well as the handouts and other class information will be distributed to students prior to the first class meeting.

Students learn to paint in oil and/or acrylic paint. The course is designed to familiarize students with the formal elements of painting and to build technical proficiency. Students paint in the studio, mostly from observed situations and still-life setups. Critical dialogue and frequent critiques figure largely in the learning process and encourage each student’s personal vision. Online courses will meet on either the BlueJeans or Zoom platform on the given date and time. Instructions on how to access these platforms as well as the handouts and other class information will be distributed to students prior to the first class meeting.

Prerequisites: PAI 2321 or permission of the instructor
Tuition | In-Person: $725

| A | Wednesday | 1:00-4:00 p.m. | Masson |

This course is for intermediate- and advanced-level students who want to delve further into the practice of abstract painting. It is a studio-centered course and comes on the heels of the Intermediate/Advanced Abstract Painting Essentials Course, which is recommended for those who have not practiced abstract painting. The students work in class and center their attention on a personal strategy to develop their own voice through abstract painting.

Advanced Painting I & II
PAI 4320, PAI 4321
Prerequisite: PAI 3321
Tuition | In-Person: $725

| C | Thursday | 1:00-4:00 p.m. | Portman |

Advanced-level students are encouraged to develop their own projects and visions through a combination of intensive, independent studio work and ongoing guidance from the instructor. There are at least two formal critique days during the semester. Discussions of exhibitions and research on contemporary painters add to the students' understanding and development of their own painting practices.
Beginning/Intermediate/Advanced Watercolor I & II
WAT 2380, WAT 2381, WAT 3380, WAT 3381, WAT 4380, WAT 4381
Prerequisites: DRF 1301 and 2DD 1303
Tuition In-Person: $725
A Wednesday 9:30 a.m.–12:30 p.m. Kerl

Beginning students are introduced to the inherent properties of watercolor through projects that start with the translation of a single object and progress to include more complex ideas. Intermediate students review the concepts of composition and color, learn new technical approaches, and are encouraged to develop a disciplined studio practice, with personally expressive images as the goal. The advanced-level watercolor course promotes the development of conceptualization skills and media control. Students are encouraged to develop their own projects. Ongoing class critiques and guidance are provided. Critiques and demonstrations occur throughout the semester.

Beginning/Intermediate/Advanced Printmaking: Open Studio
PRI 2303, PRI 2304, PRI 3303, PRI 3304, PRI 4303, PRI 4304
Prerequisites: DRF 1301 and 2DD 1303
Tuition In-Person: $800
A Wednesday 9:30 a.m.–12:30 p.m. Johnson

The Open Studio course provides students with the opportunity to define personal project goals and to execute them with the help of the instructor. In addition to independent projects, the course will be supplemented with technical demonstrations relevant to the class, opportunities for collaboration, and an optional themed print exchange. Beginning students will be guided through demonstrations of a variety of techniques and optional prompts. Advanced students work toward a further refinement of technical procedures with a focus on personal practice and the development of visual content. Critiques and discussions are an important part of the class format. Students are encouraged to have some ideas in mind prior to the start of the semester.

At the intermediate levels of digital photography, students manipulate digital photos and found images while exploring the range of ideas Adobe Photoshop makes possible. Students refine their development while learning advanced software techniques and large-scale printing and exploring hard and soft materials for output. Emphasis is placed on personal development by exploring contemporary styles, personally expressive projects, and ongoing references to contemporary photographers and artists. Advanced-level Digital Photography students are encouraged to develop their own projects and personal directions with a combination of intensive, independent studio work and ongoing guidance and critique from the instructor. Technical digital darkroom skills will be discussed on an individual basis, but ultimately the students are encouraged to develop a cohesive and conceptually strong body of work. Online courses will be taught via the Zoom video conferencing app on the given date and time. Instructions on how to access this platform as well as the handouts and other class information will be distributed to students prior to the first class meeting.

Photography: Basic Camera and Darkroom Techniques
PHO 1305
Tuition In-Person: $800

N Tuesday 6:30–9:30 p.m. Blakemore

Through this introductory course, students expand their knowledge and understanding of the technical and aesthetic fundamentals of photography, providing a strong foundation for further study of both film and digital photography. Students receive extensive instruction on camera operation, black-and-white film processing techniques, and traditional darkroom printing skills. In-depth class discussions include composition and image making, F-stop and aperture settings, depth of field, lighting, and optics. Beginners are required to use a 35mm film camera, but use of other film camera formats, such as the Holga, is also encouraged. A limited number of film cameras are available for lease. Please bring your camera to the first class meeting.

Beginning Photography I & II
PHO 2305, PHO 2308

A Tuesday 9:30 a.m.–12:30 p.m. Ruello

Online Tuesday 9:30 a.m.–12:30 p.m. Ruello

This critique course is designed for the serious, advanced student working in drawing or water-based media on paper. The course provides an arena for constructive criticism within a nurturing environment. As this is primarily a critique course, most work discussed will be on art that was created outside of the classroom. The amount of time with each student will be divided based on class size. Online courses will be taught via either the Zoom or BlueJeans video conferencing app on the given date and time. Instructions on how to access this platform as well as the handouts and other class information will be distributed to students prior to the first class meeting.

Advanced 2-D/3-D Media: Professional Practices

Prerequisite: permission of the instructor
Tuition In-Person: $725 Online: $600
A Monday 1:00–4:00 p.m. Hill

Online Monday 1:00–4:00 p.m. Hill

This professional-practice seminar for advanced students focuses on skills involved with exhibiting artwork, such as selecting and documenting work, approaching gallery directors, and writing proposals or artist's statements. This course also examines the range of options available for exhibition venues and funding sources, as well as how to arrange and handle studio visits and talk about one's artwork. Online courses will be taught via the Zoom video conferencing app on the given date and time. Instructions on how to access this platform as well as the handouts and other class information will be distributed to students prior to the first class meeting.

Advanced Studio Critique I & II
CRT 4394, CRT 4395
Prerequisite: permission of the instructor
Tuition Online: $600

Online Tuesday 1:00–4:00 p.m. Fuchs

This critique course is designed for advanced students in any area trying to develop a fuller understanding of their work through ongoing feedback, discussion, and critique. Students will learn as much by acutely observing and discussing the work of peers as from their own. As in any critique class, work discussed is made independently outside the classroom. The intense and nurturing focus of this course allows students to grow their work substantially. The amount of time with each student will be divided based on class size. Online courses will be taught via either the Zoom or BlueJeans video conferencing app on the given date and time. Instructions on how to access this platform as well as the handouts and other class information will be distributed to students prior to the first class meeting.

Advanced Studio BLOCK
CRT 4400 BLOCK Seminar
CRT 4401 BLOCK Critique
Prerequisite: admission by application
Tuition In-Person: $1800

A Friday 9:30 a.m.–12:30 p.m. August

B Friday 1:00–5:00 p.m. Fuchs

The Advanced Studio BLOCK program will be run by Francesca Fuchs with the addition of two-hour morning seminars led by Laura August, PhD. This intensely focused program is for advanced students with their own studios and ongoing studio practices. Each participant receives weekly individual critiques with Glassell faculty and Houston-area artists, critics, and curators. The program encourages the development of a peer group of artists, allowing for lasting interactions and shared learning. Weekly seminars require advance preparation and focus on contemporary artists’ practices, combining lecture, discussion, and field trips. The BLOCK expects significant developments in participants’ work and their presentation of it. Included in the $1,800 fee, students have access to all areas of the school equipment/classrooms within regular school hours outside of class times. There will be a curated exhibition after the conclusion of each year.

Please note: This focused, year-long program including seminar and critique is for advanced students with their own studios and ongoing practices. Application deadline for BLOCK XXI is April 12, 2021. Information on how to apply as well as meet-and-greet sessions will be available in February.

One of two required beginning-level sculpture courses, this course introduces students to the possibilities of sculptural form and space while exploring the aesthetic and conceptual potential of materials and processes such as clay, plaster, and mold making. Basic techniques are introduced alongside slide presentations and critiques to help students become familiar with the ideas that form the foundation of contemporary sculpture. Hand tools, power tools, mold-making techniques, ceramic processes, and other practices are explored.

One of two required beginning-level sculpture courses, the goal of this course is to acquaint students with the fundamental materials and processes typically used in the course of fabricating sculpture. Emphasis is placed on the relationships between sculptural materials and sculptural design, with a specific focus on the use of wood and metal. Traditional materials and tools are demonstrated, along with traditional techniques such as fabricating. Students are encouraged to experiment and develop their own artistic goals.

Intermediate students focus on the technical and conceptual issues of contemporary sculpture using wood, clay, plaster, and steel as primary media. Advanced students focus on the production of work in the studio, using a wider variety of media and also addressing issues of format, which are tailored to particular interests. Group and individual critiques, as well as slide presentations, are incorporated. Online courses will be taught via the Zoom video conferencing app on the given date and time. Instructions on how to access this platform as well as the handouts and other class information will be distributed to students prior to the first class meeting.
Beginning/Intermediate/Advanced Foundry I & II
FOU 2335, FOU 2336, FOU 3335, FOU 3336, FOU 4335, FOU 4336
Prerequisite: SCU 2330 and permission of the instructor
Tuition In-Person: $800

N Thursday 6:30-9:30 p.m. Garcia
A Friday 9:30 a.m.-12:30 p.m. Garcia

Students are introduced to lost-wax casting using aluminum and bronze; learn to work with wax; discover techniques of investment and procedures for pouring molten metal; and gain experience with mold making, welding, chasing, and patina applications. The course also examines the history of metal casting in industry and the fine arts. Projects are executed on a small scale to allow students to complete their work within the semester.

Beginning Ceramics I & II
CER 2340, CER 2341
Prerequisite: 3DD 1304 (DRF 1301 is highly recommended)
Tuition In-Person: $800

A Thursday 9:30 a.m.-12:30 p.m. Forster
N Thursday 6:30-9:30 p.m. Dennard

This course introduces students to the tools, techniques, and vocabulary of clay through lectures, demonstrations, and studio participation. Emphasis is placed on problem solving, with clay as the design medium, using the traditional techniques of hand-building and wheel-throwing.

Beginning/Intermediate Ceramics: Hand-Building I & II
CER 2346, CER 2347, CER 3346, CER 3347
Prerequisite: 3DD 1304
Tuition In-Person: $800

A Monday 6:30-9:30 p.m. Dennard

This course will concentrate on the multiple techniques ceramics artists use to build forms. The student will explore forms and molds and slab and coil construction. It is an excellent place for the student new to ceramics to develop basic skills and learn about clay, building techniques, and firing and glazing. Intermediate students will be challenged by more sophisticated projects using multiple building techniques to make larger and sculptural pieces. All students will be asked to participate in technical lectures, glazing and firing processes, and in-class critiques. It is an opportunity for a sound foundation for further ceramic study for the beginning student and further expansion of skills and techniques for the intermediate student.

Intermediate Ceramics: Hand-Building I & II
CER 3346, CER 3347
Prerequisite: CER 2341
Tuition In-Person: $800

A Wednesday 9:30 a.m.-12:30 p.m. Forster

In this two-semester course, students enhance their hand-building skills and learn alternative building processes. Projects include building with solid clay, constructing with extrusions, and working on individual projects. In addition, there is an emphasis on glaze making, specifically related to ceramic sculptural surfaces.

Intermediate/Advanced Ceramics: Multiplicity I & II
CER 3352, CER 3353, CER 4352, CER 4353
Prerequisite: CER 2341
Tuition In-Person: $800

A Wednesday 1:00-4:00 p.m. Forster

In this course students will propose a topic of study for the semester to be approved by the instructor. While most of the semester students will be working independently, demonstrations and technical support will be available upon request. In addition to writing a strong proposal, exhibition installation will be addressed. The course terminates in an exhibition to be announced.

Intermediate Ceramics: Wheel-Throwing I & II
CER 3348, CER 3349
Prerequisite: CER 2341
Tuition In-Person: $800

A Tuesday 9:30 a.m.-12:30 p.m. Forster

In this course, students continue to develop their wheel-throwing skills. A focus is placed on vessels with multiple components such as handles, lids, and spouts. Additionally, students learn to increase the scale of their vessels, as well as to use different methods of altering pots. Glaze research focuses on surfaces for utilitarian wares.
Intermediate Ceramics: Narrative Sculpture I & II
CER 3350, CER 3351
Prerequisite: CER 2341
Tuition  In-Person: $800
A  Friday  9:30 a.m.–12:30 p.m.  Dennard

The focus of this class is narrative sculpture. Using images and materials to create personal stories, students are encouraged to write, draw, think, and craft. Topics explored include how to use images to create symbolic meaning and how to sculpt stories that allude to universal themes, fantasy, or allegory. While clay is a basis, the work is not limited solely to the ceramic process. A broad range of materials and techniques are covered.

Advanced Ceramics I & II
CER 4340, CER 4341
Prerequisite: CER 3341
Tuition  In-Person: $800
N  Tuesday  6:30–9:30 p.m.  Forster

In consultation with the instructor, each student proposes a self-directed investigation, with clay as the medium for visual expression. During the semester, the student's goals and direction are discussed, methods of presentation are addressed, and the student's critical analyses of the work are continually reviewed.

Beginning Jewelry I & II
JWL 2360, JWL 2361
Prerequisite: 3DD 1304 (DRF 1301 is highly recommended)
Tuition  In-Person: $800
A  Tuesday  9:30 a.m.–12:30 p.m.  Zilker
N  Wednesday  6:30–9:30 p.m.  Zilker

This two-semester course is the basis for any further jewelry explorations. In the first semester, students acquire the basic skills needed to fabricate jewelry out of nonferrous metals (copper, brass, nickel, sterling, and gold). A progression of techniques—sawing, riveting, and soldering to bezel-stone setting—is combined with the refinement of design sensibilities and aesthetic considerations. The second semester continues the development of fabrication skills; examines the possibilities of content; and introduces additional techniques that explore texture, volume, and alternative methods of setting stones.

Intermediate Jewelry I & II
JWL 3360, JWL 3361
Prerequisite: JWL 2361
Tuition  In-Person: $800
A  Tuesday  9:30 a.m.–12:30 p.m.  Zilker
N  Wednesday  6:30–9:30 p.m.  Zilker

The first semester of this two-semester course explores the lost-wax casting process with an emphasis on matrix development. The second semester focuses on mechanisms as they apply to both jewelry and containers. Techniques included are hinges, clasps, and stone setting.

Advanced Jewelry: Special Topics I & II
JWL 4360, JWL 4361
Prerequisite: permission of the instructor
Tuition  In-Person: $800
A  Thursday  9:30 a.m.–12:30 p.m.  Zilker

This advanced-level course introduces students to more complex forming processes and surface treatments such as forging, raising, patinas, and plastics. Independent development is emphasized as students combine process with concepts and content.

Beginning/Intermediate/Advanced Jewelry: Enameling I & II
ENM 2362, ENM 2363, ENM 3362, ENM 3363, ENM 4362, ENM 4363
Prerequisite: 3DD 1304 (DRF 1301 is highly recommended)
Tuition  In-Person: $800
A  Monday  9:30 a.m.–12:30 p.m.  Harrell
N  Monday  6:30–9:30 p.m.  Harrell

The first semester focuses on the techniques of stencil, graffito, and cloisonné, exposing the beginning student to a wide range of approaches. The second semester introduces etching techniques for two projects, one on silver and one on copper, using the champlevé technique. A third project includes enameling on a chased or etched surface, or basse-taille. The intermediate student explores sawed plique-à-jour (backless enameling), enameling on a hydraulically pressed form, and silkscreening enamels. Students at the advanced level make decals and steel-cut dies for limited-edition production pieces. More advanced classes may include electroforming, painting, spraying enamels, and other combinations of techniques.
Advanced Enameling I & II
ENM 4362, ENM 4363
Prerequisite: ENM 3363
Tuition
In-Person: $800

At the advanced level, the student is ready to use the technical information of the first four semesters to create a more personal direction. Each semester begins with several samples that will explore specific techniques. There will be demonstrations of each sample and group critique, discussion, and sharing. The final project of the semester is more complex and can involve enamel and metal techniques. There will be discussion and direction each week to help to facilitate that design. Instructor approval and completion of all projects assigned in the first four levels of the course is required.

AW 397
Tuition
In-Person: $320

This workshop is a basic fundamental class that will teach modeling of the human head from live models, as well as from photo references. This will be achieved through demonstrations by the instructor with a focus on observation, learning to see big and small shapes, and comparison of spaces using mapping lines and other tools. Students will work from the general to the particular, using a blocking technique and working the whole head to achieve solidarity and a good likeness of the model. This is not an alla prima class. It’s a slower approach to painting, but is effective nonetheless.

Contemporary Drawing: Drawing Maps, Bayous, Oceans, & Textures in Nature
AW 398
Tuition
In-Person: $350

This five-session workshop explores new ways of drawing nature through abstraction. Students will be asked to reacquaint themselves with the ways in which they interact with and view the Texas landscape. Drawing nature through the process of abstraction and minimalism will help guide students in new approaches to drawing, including drawing as meditation.

Sharon Dennard
BA, University of Houston

Sharon Dennard has taught ceramics at the Glassell School since 2003. Her relationship with visual art began in the fashion industry. The forms, patterns, and colors used in clothing sparked a creativity and interest in design that led her to a degree in photography from the University of Houston. She continued her studies at the Glassell School of Art and expanded her interest from photography to sculpture, working primarily in clay and wood. She has exhibited in galleries and museums throughout the United States. Her work has been featured in Southwest Art, Texas Monthly, the Houston Chronicle, 500 Cups: Ceramic Explorations of Utility & Grace, and PaperCity Magazine. Outside of the studio, Dennard frequently jurys exhibitions and lectures on subjects such as ceramic sculpture and design. She also teaches at the High School for Performing and Visual Arts.

Mark Greenwalt
MFA, Pratt Institute, Brooklyn, NY; MA, Stephen F. Austin State University, TX; BA, Stephen F. Austin State University, TX

Mark Greenwalt is professor of art at College of the Mainland and current president of the Texas Association of Schools of Art. Prior to 2000, Greenwalt taught drawing and painting courses for the University of Houston, Rice University, and the Glassell School. For more than 20 years he has been represented by Houston’s Hooks-Epstein Gallery. Most recently Greenwalt participated in an art and pathology collaborative project with the University of Texas Medical Branch and Galveston Arts Center. Through frequent cycles of forming, deforming, and reforming imagery, Greenwalt’s nondeterministic figures evolve on drawing surfaces parallel to the greater world in which nature and culture increasingly fuse in wonderful and terrifying ways. mgreenwalt@mfah.org

Jan Harrell
MFA, University of Houston; BFA, Texas Tech University

Jan Harrell is a metalsmith, enamelist, and educator who has been on the Glassell School faculty since 1993, teaching enameling. Her love for clay and metal media was fueled by her early childhood years in Japan and then grew into her college and graduate-school education. Harrell teaches workshops across the country and participates in invitational and juried exhibitions. Her work is in the permanent collection of the Houston Airport System at IAH, the Kamm Teapot Foundation, the Enamel Arts Foundation, and several private collections. More than 15 books and publications feature her work. Harrell received a BFA from Texas Tech University and an MFA in sculpture from the University of Houston.

ljohnson@mfah.org

Liv Johnson
MFA, Texas Tech University; BA, University of Hawaii at Hilo

Born and raised in Pahoa, Hawaii, Liv Johnson earned her BA at the University of Hawaii at Hilo. In 2015 she moved to Lubbock where she earned her MFA at Texas Tech University in printmaking and sculpture. While her primary emphasis is in printmaking, her work branches into multiple media, developing pieces that explore sound, light, installation, and combine a wide variety of materials. Over the years she has organized and volunteered for numerous community art events and has taught courses and workshops at universities and community studios. She has also published the first scientific illustrations of four new species of Cyrtandra in the peer-reviewed journal Phytokeys. Her work has been shown across the country and she has curated a number of exhibitions. She now lives in Houston where she continues to develop her studio work at Burren Bones Press.

J Hill
MFA, BA, Stephen F. Austin State University

J Hill has been teaching sculpture at the Glassell School since 1995. He is a sculptor who has had multiple one-person and group exhibitions in galleries, nonprofits, and museum spaces. Hill’s work and social projects have been executed in venues throughout Texas, in cities such as Chicago and Baltimore, and countries including France and Kenya, to name a few. He has received awards such as the Artadia Houston Grand Prize and an Idea Fund Award, plus grants from Houston Arts Alliance (HAATT). Hill continues to explore media as wide ranging as traditional materials such as wood and steel to innovative uses of sound to create sculptural environments. He also employs the use of many digital tools. Hill recently received a BA in political theory, followed by an MFA in sculpture from Stephen F. Austin State University.

THE ANNUAL FUND DRIVE SUPPORTS THE GLASSELL SCHOOL OF ART

Operational costs for the Glassell School are not covered by tuition alone. The Glassell School relies on generous contributions from students and alumni who contribute to the Glassell School Annual Fund Drive. These important donations provide for the most basic, day-to-day necessities of the school. From providing essential upkeep of the facilities and supporting the faculty and staff to enabling scholarships, affordable tuition rates, and special programs, the Glassell School Annual Fund Drive is critical for the ongoing success of the school.

For more information about the Annual Fund Drives or the Leadership Circle, please contact Haley Horan, senior development officer, annual campaigns, at 713-639-7559, or hhoran@mfah.org.

We wish to thank and recognize those who made recent contributions to the Glassell School of Art Annual Fund Drive:
